Neighbourhood Watch is a community-driven approach to reducing crime and anti-social behaviour

Neighbourhood Watch Comes to Love's Farm

LFCFA has launched a community-wide Neighbourhood Watch scheme covering the whole of Love's Farm and we are encouraging everyone to get involved.

Neighbourhood Watch is a national initiative that aims to create strong, friendly, active communities where crime and anti-social behaviour are less likely to happen. We're already proud of the strength of community here on Love's Farm, and in many ways Neighbourhood Watch just reinforces what we are already doing as neighbours.

What it means

Being a member of Neighbourhood Watch means being a good neighbour and caring about Love's Farm. It doesn't mean interfering in other people's business; just that your neighbours will look out for you, your family, your home and your street and Love's Farm, and you will do the same for them.

In undertaking to give whatever support they can to help Neighbourhood Watch achieve its objectives, all members do whatever they can to make their neighbourhood safer and more secure.

Neighbourhood Watch sends a clear message that crime and anti-social behaviour is not tolerated in our community, and we undertake to work with the police by reporting issues that affect our neighbourhood.

Getting the word out

bpha have very generously given some money towards the cost of signs. However, the signs are not cheap and we will need to raise some more money to get good coverage across Love's Farm. So we will be looking to residents to make a small contribution towards the cost of signs on your street.

Our Street Reps will be leading the effort to make Neighbourhood Watch visible on your street. They will have a small supply of stickers which could be put in any prominent windows and will be collecting contributions for signs to go on lampposts. We'll publish more details about this as plans develop, along with any other updates, on our website (below).

Your Street Rep will also be an important point of contact – you should make sure they are aware of any issues on your street. You can find out who your Street Rep is at www.ourlovesfarm.co.uk/streetreps. If your street doesn't yet have one, could you volunteer?

Signing up

Detailed instructions can be found on our website (below). There are two parts to the process – first you need to register for an account on the national Neighbourhood Watch website, then sign up for our scheme, which is called "Love's Farm Community".

Green Light for Hooper's Green

Love's Farm residents will have noticed the new hoarding that has appeared around the plot of land on the south-west corner of Love's Farm – the final plot to be built on.

A computer visualisation of the new development

Developer L&Q has been granted planning permission to build 41 homes on the land. 12 will be available to rent at affordable prices, five will be part-rent, part-buy, with the remaining 24 for sale at market prices. Building is set to commence before Christmas, with the first occupants moving in by autumn 2020 and the last ones in by summer 2021. Find out more about the development at www.lqhomes.com/hoopersgreen

The team from L&G attended LFCA meetings in January and again in September, and the architects have acted on the feedback of residents in terms of walking routes through the site. LFCA will continue to liaise with

L&Q throughout the build process and beyond. We are looking forward to working with L&Q Foundation, which works with local community groups, schools and employment partners to support L&Q residents and their local communities.

We are delighted that L&Q has named Hooper's Green after Max Hooper, an esteemed biologist and Love's Farm resident until his death in 2017. On completion, St Neots Town Council has recommended the new street be called Hooper Crescent.

Max pioneered a method for estimating the age of a hedgerow by examining the diversity of species it contains. With the ancient hedgerow

LFCA Community Awards, Quiz and AGM

Friday 11 October from 7:30pm,
Love's Farm House

Love's Farm Community Association will hold its annual Community Awards at Love's Farm House on 11 October. It's a chance for us all to celebrate the brilliant projects and even more brilliant people that make Love's Farm such an enjoyable place to live. We've had some great nominations and are looking forward to announcing this year's winners.

Katie Boldero was one of our award-winners last year for her successful campaign to improve fencing at the Pirate Ship playground

We'll be combining the evening with a family-friendly quiz, a review of the year, quick AGM presentations for LFCA and Love's Farm House plus discounted fish and chips from (the award-winning) Cox's at the Light-house. We hope you can join us!

School Governor Vacancy

The Round House Primary Academy is looking for a new community governor to join its team. This is a great way to get involved in the Love's Farm community.

A governor's role is to help ensure that the school provides pupils with a high quality education in a safe, caring environment — by attending meetings at which the Head's Report and ongoing progress is discussed, looking at the School Development Plan and overseeing the school budget. Governors are encouraged to visit the school on a regular basis — for example, to attend lessons, performances, and assemblies and the year six leavers' party.

It's not an onerous task and meetings are friendly and constructive. We aren't looking for any specific skills or knowledge, and training is provided. Governors' meetings take place approximately six times a year during the evening.

If you're interested in the role, please get in touch with the Chair of the Governors, Penny Norton, at pennymnorton@gmail.com.

Halloween Disco

Saturday 2 November, 6-10pm,
Love's Farm House

Our annual Halloween Disco is something of an institution... a night when seemingly normal people dress up like a bunch of weirdos, play ridiculous games and dance like buffoons to cheesy pop music. There'll be prizes for the best costumes and the worst dancing... as always we'll be expecting great things from you all. The bar will be open but please don't get too sozzled and forget you brought your children with you.

Braindead Ben will be spinning the tunes, with Abominable Anna running the games and utterly revolting catering from Marauding Maria.

Our Halloween Disco costs £2 per person (babes in arms go free) and is always a sell-out. Head over to Love's Farm House (open Monday to Friday, 9am to 3pm) or book online at www.lovesfarmhouse.com/tickets

Money for St Neots – Future High Street Fund

You may have seen in the media about a recent grant of up to £150,000 by the government to St Neots. Grants were announced at the end of August to 50 towns (another 50 towns had already been agreed in July). These are to enable towns to prepare a business case to compete for a share of the government's £1 billion Future High Street Fund.

The objective of the fund is "to renew and reshape town centres and high streets in a way that drives economic growth and sustainably improves how people use them". The initial money will be spent by Hunts District Council working with the St Neots Master Plan group to prepare a bid for a large capital grant. Final submission of this is due in April 2020. Initial thinking for St Neots is for redevelopment around the Priory Centre and library ("Priory Quarter") to better appreciate St Neots's river frontage and market square. This includes providing increased employment including start up and incubator facilities, leisure and community facilities as well as retail in the town. The aim is to match the housing growth in the town and encourage residents to stay in the town for work and leisure.

Parking and Chicanes Update

Parking restrictions were introduced to Love's Farm over the summer

You will have seen that the yellow lines are now installed across Love's Farm, with a few gaps to be completed by the contractors. LFCA and I have received feedback that's mostly very positive. As we said during the consultations it was always going to be difficult to meet every one's requirements 100 per cent.

So far the scheme seems to have been successful in reducing commuter parking, albeit by displacing some cars to some very inconsiderate if not dangerous parking in Hawkesden Road across the railway. The Town Council has submitted a bid to restrict parking on this road as well. The latter will be considered as part of the 2020-21 programme in January 2020. I (and others) are also asking about other solutions to try and cut through the risk of just moving the commuter parking from one place to another. I suspect this will take time (we have been working on the Love's Farm restrictions since 2015).

You may remember that earlier this year we also got approval for money to modify or remove the traffic chicanes on the Dramsell Rise bridge and corner of Hogsden Leys and Cockrells. I've been told the County highways officers will be looking at this once the estate parking work is finished.

Find a New Hobby at St Neots Community Day

Saturday 19 October, 10am - 3:30pm, The Priory Centre

Over 30 clubs and community groups will be descending on the Priory Centre on 19 October to showcase the wide variety of activities you can take part in in our town. From cycling to fencing, knitting to drama, singing to photography, there's sure to be something for everyone. Love's Farm Community Association, Love's Farm House and Love's Farm Runners will be there to fly the flag for our part of the town, so please come along to say hello. Entry is free.

There was a great turn out for the first meeting of Love's Farm Book Club in September was a great success — so much so that the group will be using the hall rather than the meeting room at Love's Farm House, with the date moved to the third Friday of the month. It's a great opportunity to see friends, make new ones and discuss books (and anything else) over a glass or two of gin.

Street Light Repairs

Many of you got in touch last winter to ask what could be done about the numerous dead street lights across Love's Farm.

Love's Farm Community Association (LFCA) surveyed the whole development and logged almost 50 broken street lights, and we have since been working to address these with more than 10 companies and organisations across Love's Farm who share responsibility for their maintenance.

The majority of these have now been fixed although we are still working with bpha to get a few remaining lights sorted on their streets and parking areas, and with the landlord for the Tesco car park.

This summer the main spine roads were adopted by Cambridgeshire County Council — which means that street light faults on these roads can now be reported online at www.lightingcambridgeshire.com/contact-us/report-fault.htm. In the meantime, other roads remain the responsibility of the original developers, but we expect that these will eventually be adopted by the County Council too.

If you spot a light that's out and you're unsure who is responsible, please email Marcus at chair@ourlovesfarm.co.uk to describe its location and we'll do our best to point you in the right direction to help you get it fixed.

Love's Farm Out of Doors

First of all I have an apology. Back in the spring I promised you recipes for preserving our quince crop but there are hardly any on the whole Farm! I also said not to get excited about the pear crop because our trees are ornamentals... and they are loaded this year! What would I know with only 72 years' experience of fruit growing? It's all down to the night temperature while each variety is in flower. I haven't tried the pears yet but I doubt if they will ripen like shop bought ones, but will stew with cinnamon and honey, or pickle with a cucumber pickle to serve with fish dishes.

Sloes growing in the hedgerow

This month I have been pondering on the importance of our green spaces to our well-being. Do you sometimes walk out of your house early in the morning and marvel at how clean the first breath feels?

Plants take in carbon dioxide and give out oxygen, and animals do the opposite. Plants lock up the carbon (from the carbon dioxide that we breathe out) in their growth and we rely on the oxygen that plants give out during photosynthesis. Not quite as simple as it sounds but...

...in a perfect world there would be a perfect balance. Luckily, sea-green is not just a colour — it indicates that nearly 80%* of the world's oxygen is produced by tiny sea plants called phytoplankton. But we have to share that with all the fish before it is free for us to breathe in.

The rest of our essential oxygen comes from land plants. We usually think of tropical forests as the main source, but in fact* boreal forests, largely coniferous, of North America, Scandinavia and Russia probably produce more*. Now we begin to see the fear surrounding clearing of the former and logging the latter.

So what has this to do with Love's Farm Out of Doors? Well, I feel pretty helpless about global oxygen — I don't eat products with palm oil or buy log cabins — but I can and do value and enjoy our Love's Farm green spaces, and perhaps grumble less about their over-planting and lack of aftercare. We need every leaf to help us breathe in that lovely clean first breath.

But hold it! Autumn is upon us and the leaves will be falling off. Thank goodness we are in a global system, however fragile.

BBC science writer Luis Villazon has calculated that each person needs the net oxygen of eight big (sycamore) trees to survive*. Bags I have the eight big oaks we have along Fox Brook!

Hazelnuts

Spanish chestnuts

Don't forget the Town Council gave us some tulip bulbs. They are happy for us to plant them in the longer grass sloping down to the pond areas so send me ideas of where you'd like them and stand by to form planting gangs in November.

You can reach me about this or any other ideas you have for improving the green spaces on Love's Farm at phyllis.hooper@btinternet.com.

* The sprinkling of asterisks in this piece are because of the widely varying figures for all these statistics.
